DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 02/25/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants have argued that in the instant invention the conversion to venlafaxine was completed in 5 hours. In contrast, Dolitzky discloses a reaction of N,N-didesmethyl venlafaxine hydrochloride with formic acid and formaldehyde where the conversion is conducted for 8 hours. See Example 2 on Page 7 of WO 02/45658 and col. 5 of U.S. Patent 6,924,393. Applicants then conclude that it would not have been expected that the reaction would proceed faster by the correct selection of the mole ratios of reactants.

The examiner does not find this argument persuasive because as stated in the previous office action, where general conditions of claim are disclosed in prior art, it is not inventive to discover optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation. Optimizing the prior art molar ratio is well within the skill of an ordinary artisan.

The rejection is being maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1621

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dolitzky. For reasons see previous office action and arguments stated herein.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
